Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 26 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Early cloud breaking to sunshine but also further heavy showers.

Today:
Starting cloudy in the east, with some residual showery rain. Becoming drier generally with some warm sunshine, sparking further heavy showers, although these should be fewer than on Sunday. Feeling very warm and humid. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining showers fading for a time to leave a mild night with clear spells and some fog patches developing inland. Further, more isolated showers perhaps possible towards dawn. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tuesday:
Brightest for many during the morning, with further warm sunny spells and a humid feel. Cloudier into the afternoon, as rain punctuated by heavier, perhaps thundery showers spreads eastwards. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Changeable and often breezy, with a mixture of sunshine and showers, some heavy and thundery. Perhaps more generally wet for a time later Thursday into Friday. Feeling less warm.
